

THE SEDORIC GROUP
of Steward Partners

The Holiday Letters are firing up, our talented team is crafting our own greeting to each of you, and Thanksgiving provided us all with an immense sense of gratitude. Our client's support during our migration to Steward Partners still brings a flood of emotion for us. The Holidays are here!

Though some of us went without a paycheck for 3 months after our transition, we remained committed to our community and especially in the area of civics, education, the arts, and financial literacy. Though trust in our institutions is at a low, we continue to invest in organizations that appropriately advance our clients, their families, and our community.

Thanks to you and your commitment and trust in our growing team, our families have been able to support the following organizations in the past year, either with financial support or with a commitment of time:
